WESLEYAN METHODIST CHURCH EXTENSION SOCIETY.
Two annual meetings of the Wesleyan Methodist Church Extension Society was held yesterday evening in the Wesleyan Church in York-street, J. Caldwell, Esq., M.A., in the chair. Present, Reverend Messrs. J. Eggleston, S. Raboon, G. Hurst, R. Moffield, J. H. Manton, and W. Curnow took part in the proceedings. The meeting having been constituted by prayer, offered up the Rev. Mr. Curnow, the business of the evening.

by the chairmen, who said that he rejoiced that they were all together at that time, because the cause of church extension had been a subject which had occupied much attention during the last two months. There were gentlemen present who were personally acquainted with the first foundations of Wesleyan Methodism in this colony, and he considered it very important that its steps should be made patent to the public at large. He feared that Wesleyan Methodism was not properly understood in this colony, notwithstanding its influence as a Church was so great.

The Secretary—the Rev. Mr. CUNNEW—was then called upon to read the report. It appeared from the report that the income of the society during the past year had amounted to £108 and 10d. Five candidates for the ministry had offered themselves.

The Rev. G. Hunter moved the first resolution. It was to the following effect:—"That this meeting, regarding the importance and urgent need of this society, offers its gratitude to the Great Head of the Church for the measure of success which has hitherto attended the work of home evangelization." He was very happy to meet them at that annual meeting, and some they drew words to them—words which he wished were ways, such as might sink deep into their hearts. The object of the length and breadth of the land, by the building of Wlryan churches and the support of ministers to officiate there-and to preach to the people. What the proposed was an object of the greatest possible importance—the promotion of holiness amongst the people. Such an object was in itself of importance than that which was the immediate end of any of legislation. The promotion of the interests of religion and morality was an important object upon many grounds. It politically of great weight, for the increase of the population independent thereupon. Vice enfeebled a people, and diminot merely in moral but in a political and social point of view. The Rev. gentlemen proceeded to point out that the maintenance of the ordinances of religion was a duty not to be superceded by any efforts for mere intellectual development. The mere development of the intellect did not produce moral ty and unhappiness, but religion was always productive of intellectual activity, morality, social happiness and national greatness. The case of China was insisted upon as a case in point, it being contended that it was the want of a pure and vital faith that paralyzed that gigantic empire. Pease, an Irishman, was

The speaker reminded his hearers that the higher claims of the human soul were not to be satisfied with anything of earth alone. The soul of man yearned for a knowledge and love of God—the manifestation of the Divinity as the Apostle desired when he came to the Redeemer, "Shew us the Father and he sufficeth us." The want was supplied by religion—such religion as it was the business of that society to extend and to support. The speaker then, treating upon this part of his address, took the occasion to defend the Wesleyan ministers of the colony from the animadversions which had been cast upon them by Mr. Martineau. The Wesleyan ministers were heard and felt in the land, wherever that gentleman might think of them. All were ready to preach the Word of God with acceptance to their hearers.

The Rev. S. RANOOK seconded the resolution, and spoke in support. The resolution was then put and carried unanimously. The second resolution was proposed by the Rev. R. MARSHALL. It was as follows:—"That this meeting views the spiritual detection of many parts of our interior as demanding the earnest solicitude of the Christian Church, and, firmly believing in adaptation of Wesleyan Methodism to meet the requirements of the country, pledges itself to increased and pre-serving efforts to pray that an enlarged spirit of liberality and of prayer may rest on all the Churches in this land." The rev. gentleman commenced by a complimentary allusion to the speech of Rev. Mr. Hurst, and proceeded to say that in his opinion religion was a most excellent institution, and that it was one which, in his opinion, was well able to exist without the aid of Wesleyan-Methodism (so important a part of that "inspired" literature) have received any support from the government. Legislation about to lay the axe to the root of the tree of state-aid, that would, he thought, soon be cut down, he for one should be very glad to see the burning of it; he had seen it grubbed up and altogether done away with. He believed that Methodistism would flourish all the better for the removal of state support. There were many enlightened spots in the interior that the diffusive nature of Wesleyan-Methodism peculiarly adapted to find out and to occupy. He believed be one of the greatest and most active agencies that the Great Head of the Church had ever honored with his magnificent benediction. Wesleyan Methodism was eminently an orthodox Church, and that was peculiarly adapted to the work of evangelization in the very nature of its organization. They had no dreams in this life; all were expected to do something to forward the cause of the Gospel—from the President of the Conference to the one that got his ticket of membership at the last quarterly meeting. The reverend gentleman then passed on to claim for the mission of the Wesleyan Church a high standing in eloquence and office were all men of unquestionable attainments—numbers among them Masters of Arts, Bachelors of Arts, and other scholars, and a large proportion of them being honourably distinguished for their knowledge of the Greek and Hebrew languages.

The Rev. Mr. EGGLESTON seconded the resolution, and spoke in its support. The resolution was put and carried as before.

A collection was then made, during the progress of which the Chairman addressed some remarks to the meeting relative to the claims of the members of the Wesleyan Methodist Church.

The last resolution—moved by the Rev. J. A. MANTON, seconded by the Rev. W. CUNOW—was as follows: "That the following gentlemen form the local committee for the ensuing year, viz., Messrs. J. Caldwell, B. Haigh, Dr. Moffatt, C. Kirk, J. H. Kendell, Toose, Remington, Lawson, M'Keon, and WINDLEY. Mr. S. Callaghan; secretary, the Rev. W. Curnow." This was carried as before, the meeting being brought to a conclusion by a vote of thanks to the Chairman and half-past nine o'clock.

DISTRESS IN LANCASHIRE.—A preliminary meeting of the iron trade was held last evening, at the Lighthouse Hotel, Sussex-street, for the purpose of making arrangements for holding a public meeting of the trade to address ate the relief the unemployed distressed cotton spinners in the manufacturing districts of England. A committee was appointed to prepare resolutions to be submitted to a public meeting, as well as to make provision for collecting the subscriptions of the trade. It was announced that a public meeting would be held in the course of a few days, and that in the interim all the necessary machinery would be organised for making a thorough collection amongst the trade, so that the full amount to be raised from its assistance

ANTI-STATE-AID.—We understand that the petition adopted at the recent meeting in the Temperance Hall against State-aid to religion has received upwards of three thousand signatures, and that the number will be increased before it is presented in the Legislative Assembly on Wednesday afternoon.

instant, a lecture was delivered on the "Romance of Geology," by Mr. J. P. Ollis, at the National School, Camden, for the benefit of the School of Arts. The chair occupied by Mr. J. R. Chisholm. The lecturer treated the subject in a very able manner, having prepared a large number of drawings to illustrate this very interesting science. He had also procured a goodly number of geological specimens, and a very agreeable and instructive evening was passed.

lecture was most attentively listened to by a pretty numerous audience, but still not so large as we should like to have on these occasions; for it must be remembered that the preparation of these lectures occupies a great deal of time of those gentlemen who deliver them; and when the object is taken into consideration we think the public ought to help on such institutions, in order to counteract the numerous evil tendencies which are always at work in an opposite direction. At the close the lecture a vote of thanks to the lecturer was proposed and carried by acclamation. It was then announced that the second lecture on this subject will be delivered by Mr. Ollis on Wednesday, July 30th.

BOTANIC GARDENS.—The band of the 12th Regiment will perform the following selections of music (weather permitting), at half-past three p.m. Conductor, H. Price. Programme.—Overture, "William Tell," Rossini; "Favourite Songs," "A musical tour through Europe," Chopin.

valts, "Blanche" Laurent; selection, "Lucrèce Borgia" Desmetti; quadrille, "Orphée Aux Enfers," Strauss; galop, "Tanqueray," Secat. God save the Queen.

THE ROADS.—The roads between Orange and Forcalquier on the one hand, and Orange and Bathurst on the other are in a lamentable state. A succession of frost, snow, and rain has so thoroughly saturated the surface of the ground, as to make it incapable of bearing any traffic.

like a heavy traffic. This remark applies with especial force to the greater part of the road to Forbes. A distance which was easily accomplished during the summer months in three or four days, requires sometimes a fortnight, sometimes more. The Government, though warned from time to time of the probable consequences of their bareheaded neglect of this end of the Western road, still pursue their apathetic course. If the Government were called to account to-morrow for these glaring instances of neglect, they

HAIR STORM.—On Saturday evening a severe hail storm passed over the Orange district. It lasted for nearly an hour, and when it had ceased the country for miles around presented a most singular appearance, the ground being covered with hail to the depth of an inch or more.

During the storm it blew furiously from the south-west. The lightning was more vivid than any we had seen since the middle of summer.—Western Examiner.

The price of hay is still keeping up on Lambing Flat. On Monday, a few loads were delivered at £22 10s. 10s. There is also a scarcity of corn and oats, which are retailing at 1s. per bushel.—Burrangong Courier.

THE GULF DIGGINGS.—We understand that the large portion of the diggers at Nerrigundah have been infected with the racing fever, and have left to enjoy their selves at the coast races. Although Nerrigundah is not lively as it used to be, still there is little cause of complaint, and the weekly return sent by escort may be said to about 400 ounces. Last week some very nice nuggets were purchased by Mr. Smith, one of which weighed upwards of twenty, and the other about twelve, ounces.—Correspondent of the Braidedrood Dispatch.

QUARTZ CRUSHING AT THE LACHLAN.—The reef vein in No. 3 South, on the Britannia, is nearly two miles wide. At a depth of thirty-three feet, 51 tons of quartz, lately crushed, yielded over 215 ounces of gold, and the stone is getting richer.—Lachlan Observer.

THE LATE REV. T. Q. STOW.

OUR "CHURCH" records the decease of the Rev. T. Q. Stow, for many years the pastor of the first Congregational Church in South Australia. Mr. Stow arrived in this colony about five months ago, with the view of supplying the place of the late Rev. W. Cuthbertson, now on a visit to his family.

Mr. Stow, however, had the spirit of a missionary, and he was not content to be a mere pastor, but he was anxious to promote the welfare of his adopted country, and the welfare of the people of the colony.

He lived to see his fair and successful trial of that principle which he had so long and successfully maintained, and he died a true and successful missionary.

Providence assigned to him a large work as a man and as a Christian, and that work he performed with the most successful results. He did not, but he left the strongest impressions of respect and regret from his fellow-citizens, and his name will survive as long as Christianity shall be preached among his descendants.

PURE NEGROTTI SHEEP,
By Dorothy, from Hamburg.
At Messrs. J. H. Clough and Co.'s Wool Store.

KAYE and BUTCHART have been constructed by Messrs. Haage and Frail to be by public auction, on the above day, at Messrs. Clough Co.'s Wool Store, Collins-street West, Melbourne, at o'clock sharp.

43 pure Negretti rams, 2 to 3 years old
62 pure ditto ewes, ditto.

These pure bred sheep, from Hamburg.

These sheep were bred by J. F. H. Hoffschlager, of Weiden, in the Grand Duchy of Mecklenburg, and with the greatest care by the person in charge of the flock, and are especially noted for their value to the stud of our flockmasters.

We consider it useless to state anything of the merits these Negretti have, as they are well known, and have realized the highest price ever paid for imported shag rams fetching up to £195, and the ewes up to £110.

16 lb. 9 oz. for ram, and 9 lb. 2 oz. for ewe of the 5th Negretti wool (12 months' growth). Mr. Hoffschlager, who has been in charge of the construction of the pens, says that all the animals have certainly proved itself all that could be desired.

Certificates of breeding, certified by the English breeders, will be produced for every Negretti, and no private sales will be allowed to take place under any circumstances whatever, until the sale of the wool has been completed. The sheep will be shorn in May, and the wool will be sold by public auction, by any bidders approved of either by Messrs. R. and Dutchart, or Messrs. Haage and Prell) will be taken as a security for the payment of bank interest, and 21 per cent. of the net proceeds.

The sheep can now be inspected daily, at Messrs. Glöckner's store, in the city.

Further particulars and samples of the wool can be obtained from Messrs. W. Deon and Co., Pitt and O'Connell streets, Sydney.
